

Tim Gauthier

Tim Gauthier is a registered nurse who has worked at Insite, Supervised Injection Site, since 2008. He is the clinical coordinator for Insite and its affiliated detox program, Onsite. Tim has participated in policy change and development at local and provincial levels. He was a key instigator in expanding RN scope of practice for the autonomous distribution of Naloxone, and he helped develop the provincial decision support tools for nursing practice around the administration and distribution of Naloxone. More recently, Tim helped to establish a community of practice for overdose responders, so that trends and issues in overdose response could be shared amongst first responders, experts, and policy makers in real time.

Tim is set to complete his Master's in Nursing in the Family Nurse Practitioner Stream. He hopes to continue working within the context of supervised injection.
